

Sanjeewa Kumara Colombo

“ My art is fun and I prefer to call my works 'pictures' rather than paintings. My pictures reveal the radical ambiguity of fantasy. The uncanny, the fantastic, the marvellous, the hesitation, the supernatural, and the uncertainty are very important to my work.

The language of my visual texts is where (y)our desire is placed. Mixing various with popular and unpopular historical elements and combining them as a visual pastiche, I try to synchronize them into my own unique visual language which I would like to call 'Non western-western art'.

I just wanted to be free. Freedom is of enormous importance to an artist as well as to my [art] work. ”

1. Uncanny personality and rainbow.
Oil on canvas - 110x150 cm

2. Uncanny personality II.
Oil on canvas - 100x60 cm

3. Tree of life.
Oil on canvas - 60x35 cm

4. Apsara.
Oil on canvas - 80x100 cm